

Colouring page volvox

The green colonies of Volvox tertius consist of 500 to 50,000 cells. Like other algae, this little alga needs sunlight. Its cells therefore have two flagella with which they swim to the light. As a result, the colony changes direction and spins elegantly towards the light.

Take care of each other, see you soon

ARTIS MICROPIA